Step Eleven - "Sought through prayer and meditation to improve our conscious contact with God as we understood Him, praying only for the knowledge of His will for us and the power to carry that out."

"Those of us who have come to make regular use of prayer would no more do without it than we would refuse air, food, or sunshine. And for the same reason. When we refuse air, light, or food, the body suffers. And when we turn away from meditation and prayer, we likewise deprive our minds, our emotions, and our intuitions of vitally needed support. As the body can fail its purpose for lack of nourishment, so can the soul. We all need the light of God's reality, the nourishment of His strength, and the atmosphere of His grace. To an amazing extent the facts of A.A. life confirm this ageless truth."

Tradition Eleven - "Our public relations policy is based on attraction rather than promotion; we need always maintain personal anonymity at the level of press, radio, and films."

Eleventh Tradition: Brake on Us Power Drivers?

"Our book, Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions, reminds us of the reason for the origin of Tradition Eleven: to discourage the power-driver, the status-seeker. No one knows this better than I do, having achieved a position of some stature in my part of the country. During my drinking days, my ego combined with alcohol placed me squarely in the middle of skid row. There, thank God, I received some ego-deflation at depth. I saw for myself what 'self-will run riot' could do. By the grace of God and the principles in our Twelve Steps, I have been able to rise to a position of dignity and service to my fellowman, both in the Fellowship and outside it. The Tradition of anonymity has safeguarded me from feeling that this A.A. outfit could not operate without me. Maybe we could call it humility or self-knowledge based on truth.

"Anonymity at the public level is our assurance to newcomers that their membership in A.A. will not be disclosed by others, nor will they ever be required to disclose it themselves. It will be up to them to tell those they think should know, when and if they choose. More importantly, in the long run, the principle of personal anonymity helps discourage drives for power, profit, and prestige, which could divert us from our primary purpose: staying sober and helping other alcoholics achieve sobriety. Thus, anonymity at the public level assures us that no individual A.A. member will be publicly acknowledged as a spokesman or leader. Within our Traditions, members do not use their membership to further their careers, to promote their products or services, or to give weight to their arguments in public controversy."

Attraction Rather Than Promotion

"When I called A.A. for help, I was fortunate to get a classic Big Book Twelfth Step call from Floyd O. and Bob B. They did it by the book; there was no lecturing or asking me questions about my drinking--no pressure to get me to do anything. They simply and honestly shared their stories with me without trying to impress me, sharing how their lives had changed for the better since being in A.A., and how they were getting along now without drinking. I was also told why they were there --to help themselves stay sober. I was hooked; I wanted what they had. Their twelfth Step call was a good example of attraction rather than promotion, and it really worked for me.

"Are we, as members of Alcoholics Anonymous, as attractive as we could be to newcomers and to the outside community? How do they perceive our Twelfth Step efforts--as attraction or as promotion? Do we carry the A.A. message of hope to them and keep our egos and personal ambitions out of the process? Are we familiar with all three of our legacies? Do we speak the language of the heart--simply and honestly sharing our experience, strength, and hope, or do we get carried away and act like self-appointed A.A. spokespersons, counselors, or teachers determined to 'give it to 'em' whether they want it or not? It may be good for us to think again about our Eleventh Tradition of attraction rather than promotion, and how it affects our unity."

Eleventh Step Principle

Note: About the A.A. Principles - Bill W., considered each Step to be a spiritual principle in and of itself. In the Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions, he outlined the spiritual principles behind each Step. The most important of all the principles is humility.

Spiritual Awareness

"Upon reaching Step Eleven, we find ourselves able to embrace numerous spiritual principles."

Spiritual Awareness, Humility, Love, Forgiveness, Harmony, Truth, Faith, Hope, Compassion, Understanding, Willingness, Strength, Wisdom, Serenity

"Great—now what do we actually do with them? Our principles benefit us and those we love, but we may still lack a fundamental sense of purpose. Don't feel ashamed if this describes you, as it describes most human beings on any given day.

"In our search for purpose, we inevitably find ourselves looking toward the future. Through prayer and meditation, we learn to ground ourselves in the present. Instead of searching for some monumental goal in life—a noble endeavor, though often originating from something other than humility—we seek to determine how we can make ourselves of use in the present.

"Spiritual awareness means that we always try to do the next right thing. This isn't about determining God's plan for life, the universe and everything. We cannot know that. But we can remain spiritually aware in this moment, paying attention to the signposts that will lead us down the right path. And if we find ourselves off the path, as we most certainly will from time to time, we work again to establish spiritual awareness so that we may get back on the right track.

"Of course, sometimes we feel as if the path has been ripped away from us through no fault of our own. There's a great speech about this in the pilot episode of Friday Night Lights.

'Give all of us gathered here tonight the strength to remember that life is so very fragile. We are all vulnerable, and we will all, at some point in our lives, fall. We will all fall. We must carry this in our hearts, that what we have is special. That it can be taken from us, and when it is taken from us, we will be tested. We will be tested to our very souls. We will now all be tested. It is these times, it is this pain, that allows us to look inside ourselves.'

"Life in recovery will not be perfect. It will bring hardships both old and new. But through spiritual awareness and understanding, we may continue seeking the right path. And in our worst moments, the last of the principles will help us to escape from the torment of our own minds."

Eleventh Step Prayer

Dear God.

"Lord, make me a channel of thy peace – that where there is hatred, I may bring love – that where there is wrong, I may bring the spirit of forgiveness – that where there is discord, I may bring harmony – that where there is error, I may bring truth – that where there is doubt, I may bring faith – that where there is despair, I may bring hope – that where there are shadows, I may bring light – that where there is sadness, I may bring joy.
 Lord, grant that I may seek rather to comfort than to be comforted – to understand, than to be understood – to love, than to be loved.
 For it is by self-forgetting that one finds.
 It is by forgiving that one is forgiven.
 It is by dying that one awakens to Eternal Life.
 Amen."

The Merton Prayer

My Lord God,

I have no idea where I am going.

I do not see the road ahead of me.

I cannot know for certain where it will end.

Nor do I really know myself ... and the fact that I think I am following Your will does not mean that I am actually doing so.

But I believe this: I believe that the desire to please You does in fact please You.

I hope I have that desire in everything I do.

I hope I never persist in anything apart from that desire.

And I know that if I do this you will lead me by the right road, though I may know nothing about it at the time.

Therefore, I will trust You always, for though I may seem to be lost and in the shadow of death,

I will not fear, because I know you will never leave me to face my troubles all alone.

Spirituality involves the recognition of a feeling, sense, or belief that there is something greater than myself, something more to being human than sensory experience, and that the greater whole of which we are part is cosmic or divine in nature. ... An opening of the heart is an essential aspect of true spirituality.

A Fearful Man

Written and submitted by Phillip Bettin

There I ran, a fearful man
Born with a malady of the genetic kind, that destroys the body and consumes the mind.
Living in pain, and fear, and doubt,
the love of life was draining out.
Nowhere to turn, no helping hand.
There I ran a fearful man.

The pain was deep, and cold, and real,
I drank to forget, to forget how to feel.
I drank to forget, to forget what it cost,
to remember the family, and the friends that I lost.
I drank to forget, to forget what I am,
There I ran, a fearful man.

Fear is crippling, it cripples the spirit,
It's hard to love life when you're afraid to be near it.
When you fear life when you fear trying
It's easier to drink and go on lying.
When you fear life, it's alone you will stand,
There I ran, a fearful man.

When you doubt God, when you doubt who you are,
The people you cling to are all in a bar.
They rob you, they cheat you, they tell you their trouble,
They make you feel better, you buy them a double.
You drink up your courage, you make up a plan,
There I ran a fearful man.

God is love, He's good, He's kind,
He restores the body, He saves the mind.
He conquers the pain, the fear, and the doubt,
He understands what life is all about.
He turns you around, He sticks out his hand,
He helps you stand an A.A. man.

Not Just Embarrassed but Humiliated

Written and submitted by Laurie J.

I had to attend an A.A. meeting on my husband's request. I thought to myself, "I'm not an alcoholic! I don't have a problem, I can quit anytime I want."

"WHAT IF I SAW SOMEBODY THERE I KNEW?"

We are the people who are respected within our business, church and community. We didn't drink at outings or dinner parties. If anyone was to ask about us we would be described as teetotalers. No one knew I drank at home, often reaching a drunken stupor.

So, I drove all the way to Eagle Point for that first meeting. A woman's meeting. A good 40 miles from home. I arrived an hour early so I could watch who was going in. When I was sure I didn't know everyone who entered the building, I went in.

I was greeted by several smiling faces and I quickly felt at ease. We all sat around several tables pushed together and the meeting began. It felt weird during the readings of "The Promises and "How it Works" But once the meeting started I saw how I related to those women. I listened to their stories and often shocked of what I heard. When I was asked if I wanted to share, I declined. After the meeting I said goodbye and made a quick exit.

So, I did it. My first meeting. Got my feet wet. All that night, I thought about that meeting, the woman there, their stories. I felt that maybe, just maybe I'd go again.

The following day I went to Oregon Books and purchased my first Big Book.

Sometimes you have to put your big girl panties on and just go to that first meeting.

God Leaves the Door Open for Everyone

No Need to Overthink This Issue

Written and submitted by Rick R.

The Alcoholics Anonymous (A.A.) program is open to anyone who has a desire to stop drinking. It makes no difference if you are an atheist, agnostic, Buddhist or a member of one of the vast number of religions in the world. All of us have the same opportunity to get well through the Steps. They were fashioned that way to ensure that no alcoholic is left out. We embrace everyone that walks through that door. If Step Two had been written to say, "Came to believe that God", rather than, "a Power greater than ourselves." could restore me to sanity, I wonder if A.A. would have succeeded in the way that it has, especially when we consider the problems that the Oxford Group had with this issue.

I have seen people talking of religion, and others that were irritated with any talk of God, yet we still hold hands at the end of the meeting and say a prayer and everyone leaves the meeting feeling a little better. I personally know priests and ministers in the program, and they seem to adjust to the diversity of the landscape. I wish that it could be simpler for each person, but there are no two people who are identical in this matter. Speaking for myself, if I wanted to be freed from the deadly obsession of alcoholism, I had to trust the guidance of the two books that are suggested, and the leadership of the more experienced members of the group, to come to terms with a concept of a Power Greater than myself. I was the one in the Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions who "tried religion and had found it wanting." I also read that, "even the militant atheist got through the hoop with room to spare." I did not believe in the God of the religionist, in the same way, that I thought, they did, but I did not think I was an atheist either.

The Power Greater than myself option was a good start for me. Something happened to me within minutes after arriving at my first introduction to three people, sitting on a bench in the front yard of a little house in Los Angeles, where they held their meetings. The obsession to drink was gone, and I have not had, nor wanted, a drink since then. You might call that a miracle, and you might be right, depending on your definition of a miracle, but it came to me as a profound change of perception brought about by the Love, Understanding and Compassion I sensed as they welcomed me. These experiences were a great way for me to start, but NOW, WHAT ABOUT PRAYER? Who or what do I pray to?

I heard about doorknobs and icons, the ocean, and other such things but that way of thinking did not set well with me. I did not want to be too glib about such an important matter. Then I noticed that in Step Two it does not say that I had to believe in anything, only that I had to believe that a Power Greater than myself could restore me to sanity. The collective wisdom of the A.A. program and the people in it have been the framework for my faith in a Higher Power. The experience that I had in that front yard, fifty-one years ago, was all I needed to know to get on with the rest of the program. I pray to God every day to show me what to do and to give me the strength to do it and I still do not know for sure, who or what God is. I use the word God, only to describe the spiritual influence that A.A. has had on this drunk. I pray to God as I understand God, and he expresses himself in my consciousness. The only thing left for me to do is to separate the wheat from the chaff.

Prayer is talking to the universe.

Meditation is listening to it.

A Letter From Bill Wilson About The Use Of The Lord's Prayer At A.A. Meetings

April 14, 1959

Dear Russ,

Am right sorry for my delay in answering. Lois and I were a long time out of the country and this was followed by an attack of the marathon type of flu that has been around here in New York. We are okay now, however, but I did want to explain my delay.

Now about the business of adding the Lord's Prayer to each A.A. meeting.

This practice probably came from the Oxford Groups who were influential in the early days of A.A. You have probably noted in A.A. Comes of Age what the connection of these people in A.A. really was. I think saying the Lord's Prayer was a custom of theirs following the close of each meeting. Therefore it quite easily got shifted into a general custom among us.

Of course there will always be those who seem to be offended by the introduction of any prayer whatever into an ordinary A.A. gathering. Also, it is sometimes complained that the Lord's Prayer is a Christian document. Nevertheless this Prayer is of such widespread use and recognition that the argument of its Christian origin seems to be a little farfetched. It is also true that most A.A.s believe in some kind of God and that communication and strength is obtainable through His grace. Since this is the general consensus it seems only right that at least the Serenity Prayer and the Lord's Prayer be used in connection with our meetings. It does not seem necessary to defer to the feelings of our agnostic and atheist newcomers to the extent of completely hiding our light under a bushel.

However, around here, the leader of the meeting usually asks those to join him in the Lord's Prayer who feel that they would care to do so. The worst that happens to the objectors is that they have to listen to it. This is doubtless a salutary exercise in tolerance at their stage of progress.

So that's the sum of the Lord's Prayer business as I recall it. Your letter made me wonder in just what connection you raise the question.

Meanwhile, please know just how much Lois and I treasure the friendship of you both. May Providence let our paths presently cross one of these days.

Devotedly yours,

Bill Wilson

Twelve Tips on Keeping Your Holiday Season Sober and Joyous

Holiday parties without liquid spirits may still seem a dreary prospect to new A.A.'s. But many of us enjoyed the happiest holidays of our lives sober – an idea we would never have dreamed of, wanted, or believed possible when drinking. Here are some tips for having an all-round ball without a drop of alcohol.

1 Line up extra A.A. activities for the holiday season. Arrange to take newcomers to meetings, answer the phones at a clubhouse or central office, speak with dishes, or visit the alcoholic ward at a hospital.

2 Be host to A.A. friends, especially newcomers. If you don't have a place where you can throw a formal party, take one person to a diner and spring for the coffee.

3 Keep your A.A. telephone list with you all the time. If a drinking urge or panic comes—postpone everything else until you've called an A.A.

4 Find out about the special holiday parties, meetings, or other celebrations given by groups in your area, and go. If you're timid, take someone newer than you are.

5 Skip any drinking occasion you are nervous about. Remember how clever you were at excuses when drinking? Now put the talent to good use. No office party is as important as saving your life.

6 If you have to go to a drinking party and can't take an A.A. with you, keep some candy handy.

7 Don't think you have to stay late. Plan in advance an "important date" you have to keep.

8 Worship in your own way.

9 Don't sit around brooding. Catch up on those books, museums, walks, and letters.

10 Don't start now getting worked up about all those holiday temptations. Remember—"one day at a time."

11 Enjoy the true beauty of holiday love and joy. Maybe you cannot give material gifts—but this year, you can give love.

12 "Having had a . . ." No need to spell out the Twelfth Step here, since you already know it.

Happy Sober Thanksgiving Day

Thirsty Minds

- Optimist: "My glass is half full."
- Pessimist: "My glass is half empty."
- Alcoholic: "Are you gonna finish that?"

Grapevine, February 2018

A scientist runs into an A.A. meeting and exclaims, "We did it! We found a medical cure for alcoholism! All you have to do is take this one pill daily and you are cured."

Slowly a hand raises in the back and a man asks, "What happens if you take two?"

New to A.A. meetings, a man introduces himself, "Hi, I'm Chad. I've been sober for forty days." Just as everyone greets him, he interrupts, "Wait, wait!" he exclaims, "Not in a row or anything, just total."

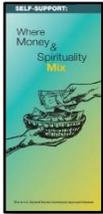

A·A· Seventh Tradition Contributions and Donations

Thank you to the A.A.'s and A.A. Groups for their contributions that support and keep both Central Offices open to serve our communities.

A.A. History - Did You Know?

This month, we continue our look back in American history before A.A. to see how the past in some indirect and/or direct way influenced and led to the formation of Alcoholics Anonymous. As you read this bit of history, you'll see some of the same program formats that gave A.A. its present-day structure. You may think that some of these facts have nothing to do with the history of A.A., but I do not believe that. The situation and the climate of the nation all led to the formation of A.A. Besides, these facts are an interesting part of American history.

Late in 1880, various businesses offering so-called alcoholism "cures" grew at a prolific rate. All-too-often, the remedy prescribed was more dangerous than what it was supposed to fix. Some of these unregulated businesses became so popular that they grew into what we would today call "franchises" or "chains." Two prominent chains were the Keeley Institute and the Gatlin Institute. Between 1880 and 1920, more than 500,000 alcoholics and addicts took the Keeley Cure that was praised by some as a cure of miraculous potential and at the same time attacked by others as a fraud.

Circa March 21, 1882, Anne Smith (nee Ripley) (Dr. Bob's wife) was born to Joseph Ripley and Harriet Konnatz in Moline, IL. They later lived in the Chicago suburb of Oak Park. Anne was one of four children. She had three brothers, two of whom were estranged. Anne grew up in a family of Santa Fe Railroad people in a sheltered atmosphere.

On October 29, 1881, Rowland "Roy" Hazard III was born. He was the eldest of five children of Rowland Gibson and Mary Pierrepont Bushnell Hazard.

In September 1885, Dr. Bob entered the Summer St Elementary School in St. Johnsbury, VT.

On August 29, 1886, T. Henry Williams was born in South Woodstock, CT. He would eventually become Chief Engineer for the National Rubber Machinery Co. (Remember this name as it will play a critical role in A.A. history.)

In 1888, Lois Wilson's parents, Dr. Clark Burnham and Matilda Hoyt Spellman, were married. Openly affectionate they loved having the children around for family activities. Born in Lancaster PA, Lois' father was a prominent physician and honors graduate from college and medical school. His father Nathan Clark Burnham was a lawyer and physician and a minister in the Swedenborgian Church that had recently come to America. He later performed the marriage ceremony of Lois and Bill. Lois' mother was from an affluent family. She managed the business affairs for her husband's medical practice. Her close cousin Laura was married to John D Rockefeller Sr.

On March 18, 1888, Henrietta Seiberling (nee Buckler) was born in Lawrenceburg, KY to Judge Julius A. and Mary Maddox Buckler.

In the summer of 1888, Dr. Bob (turning 9 years old) had his first drink from a jug of hard cider.

Stay Tuned.
Coming Soon!

Next month, in December's edition of One Day at a Time, we will cover Step Twelve, Tradition Twelve plus the Twelfth Step Prayer and Principle.

Service to others is the life blood of the program - one alcoholic talking with another as we carry the message or simply offering a helping hand to a person in need as we practice the principles in all our affairs. Regardless, service keeps our heads in the game and keeps us out of our heads. With this principle at the heart of how we live the program, we begin to see the Promises reveal themselves in our lives.

Come back next month as we share inspirational readings on service and how service is one of the key to happiness.
